

By Faith and Fortitude

For generations, the foundation of Canadian business has been built on the commitment and determination of enterprising families.

The Alberta Business Family Institute is a place where business families receive guidance and tools to build on their success. Resources from around the world and our local communities assist our members to understand the unique dynamics of business families.

The Alberta Business Family Institute is "run by families for families."

Our Speakers

Join members of the Shaw family as they share the remarkable history of Shaw Communications Inc., a pioneer in Alberta's communications history.

Learn how one of Alberta's first and best-managed communications companies has continued a legacy of leadership, governance and stewardship. As a business family, they have set a benchmark in their industry, across this province and across this country. Their values and philosophy are reflected in the way they live, their integrity in business, loyalty to family and commitment to the community.

With the third generation of Shaw's now leading the business, the Shaw Family continues to build on the work ethic and wisdom of the past, while driving for new innovation and business opportunities' that build a lasting legacy for generations to come.
